Preparing to study for SVQ

Currently being delivered online this course introduces participants to studying for an SVQ in the care sector, and increases their confidence in their own abilities. Learning includes a greater understanding of what an SVQ is and why it is a requirement; identifying current skills and those needing further development and next steps in the journey to SVQ. The course provides learners with skills and tools to reflect on and collate evidence about their own learning.

Learners: Health and social care workers needing increased confidence before undertaking the SVQs

Duration: 2 days
